PURPLE - These are Spiritual Companions.

RED - These are the Protection Dragons.

While all Dragons are here to help mankind and Earth to ascend, they do not have ranks as we know them. This chart gives an indication of what they work with the most. Most of the colours vary within each section. So they are not just plain gold, for instance, but vary within the spectrum of gold or whatever. ie: gold down to orange. They also change their colours as they also advance in certain areas. Just as our Energy Field does.

The gender of Dragons according to their colour is what part of the energy they are working with the most. ie: you may have a green and brown Dragon which indicates that the Dragon is balanced in the use of the energy.
