

THE GOLDEN STAFF

The Golden Staff was given to Kiya as she was made High Priestess in the temple of Ra. This displeased the Priesthood. Especially the High Priest as he was excluded in some matters.

It was prophesied that one of the Watchers would carry the Golden Staff – the Staff of Life. It was made especially for that purpose.

The Staff of Life carried a vibration that was from the Dragon Dimension and wisdom was passed on to the one who carried it. It was guarded by Ra in that it would only glow for the one of whom it was meant.

Nefertitti wanted to be the one to make it glow. She had only heard rumours that were circulating through the Royal Household that it glowed. She herself had never witnessed that ever happening. She and her daughters were excluded from the ceremonies that were held in secret by the Pharaoh, Queen Kiya and the Watchers.

The ceremonies were ancient ceremonies that were discovered by the original Watchers at their formation.

These had been passed down by Ra and had always been so powerful that they had been lost because of the persecution of those guarding and practising them.

All that is left is in the memories of those re-incarnated Watchers.
